Pet Health Insurance

Our pets are becoming members of the family. With technological advancements in veterinary medicine, we can offer more diagnostics and treatment options to help our pets live longer. However, every advancement comes with a price attached. Pet health insurance can literally save a life by covering those costs. Especially those associated with the UNEXPECTED EMERGENCY.

There are a wide variety of options when considering a pet health insurance company. The following are a list of questions to consider when choosing a pet health insurance provider.

Questions to consider when choosing coverage.

1. What are the policy limits for plans offered?
2. What are the deductible options?
3. Are hereditary or congenital conditions covered? Any breed limitations or exclusions?
4. Is cancer covered or do you need to buy additional coverage for it?
5. What is the dental coverage?
6. Are prescription drugs and foods, supplements and nutraceuticals covered?
7. Is rehab or alternative therapy covered?
8. Does coverage change when visiting a specialist or emergency hospital?
9. How does the company define pre-existing conditions?
10. Is wellness care (vaccines, flea and heartworm prevention) covered?
11. What are the waiting periods when you enroll?
12. What happens when the policy renews, can any covered condition become pre-existing?
13. Is there a maximum age for enrollment or coverage?
14. How does the claims process work?
15. Does the company offer pre-authorization to ensure coverage?

We highly recommend enrollment in pet health insurance as soon as possible to cover the unexpected. NO pet health insurance companies offer coverage for PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS. The best time to enroll your pet in an insurance plan is when they are young and healthy!
